

Happy Spring 2016!!

I am pleased to announce that our class was asked to participate in National Library Week at the Palos Heights Public Library. The students picked their favorite book and wrote a sentence about why they liked it. Many of them also illustrated their writing. Their favorite book and their writing are both on display in the main library case for the entire month of April. I hope that many of you will take the time to stop in and look. Your children did a fantastic job. Be very proud of them. They are a beautiful reflection of you within our community.
